Learning & Teaching Policy

Drafted September 2014
Review Date September 2016

Purpose of the Policy

Teaching and Learning is the purpose of our school. It is the method through which we offer a curriculum which is broad and balanced and meets the requirement of the Education Reform Act relating to the National Curriculum, religious education and collective worship.

This document lays the foundations for the whole curriculum, both formal and informal, and forms the context in which all other policy statements should be read. It is written for the benefit of all members of the school community, to ensure that all are aware of the fundamental principles underpinning the work of our school.

Principles of Teaching and Learning

We see teaching and learning as a process of co-operative team work and welcome and encourage the involvement of parents and others in the community.

Curriculum Time Allocation

Work will be planned using the Whole School Long Term Curriculum Framework. Teachers will follow approved Schemes of Work with reference to whole school planning, to ensure that programmes of study are effectively covered.

At Roman Road Primary School we are committed to following the programmes of study as required by the Early Year Development Matters, National Curriculum, the National Literacy framework, the National Numeracy Framework and approved Schemes of Work.

We are committed to raising standards in Basic Skills. By Basic Skills, we mean the ability to read, write and speak in English and to use mathematics and ICT at a level necessary to function and progress at work and in society in general.

Teachers will encourage pupils to work within given time scales, and will facilitate the effective use of time through:

Teaching Strategies:

In order to ensure equality of access, and effective matching of tasks to needs, teachers will employ a variety of strategies:

- the development of close links between Preschool, Nursery and Reception classes (the Early Years Foundation Stage)
- provision of an integrated curriculum both inside and outside the Early Years Foundation Stage Reception classroom
- in the Early Years Foundation Stage Reception classes, areas for imaginative play will change regularly in order to give opportunities for a range of play and role-play, which will contribute to learning in a purposeful way
- the involvement of subject co-ordinators in the development of individual curriculum areas, in order to ensure continuity and progression between Reception and Key Stage 1
- ensuring book corners are comfortable and attractive
- provision of writing resources, available for use at all times and centrally accessible
- the use of labels and posters, wherever possible, to reflect the language diversity in the school
- resources in each area will be grouped according to curriculum subject and clearly labelled
- pupils will be involved in the maintenance and care of all equipment and resources
- effective use of informative and interactive display

Teaching styles

Similarly, a wide variety of teaching styles will be used to ensure equality of access, and effective matching of tasks to needs:

- interactive teaching
- didactic teaching
- conferencing
- listening
- brainstorming

- providing opportunities for reflection by pupils
 - demonstrating high expectations
 - providing opportunities for repetition / reinforcement
 - providing encouragement, positive reinforcement and praise
 - making judgements and responding to individual need
 - teacher observation
 - discussion and questioning (open and closed as appropriate)
 - previewing and reviewing work
 - intervening, as appropriate, in the learning process in order to encourage development
 - providing all children with opportunities for success
 - using a range of communication strategies - verbal and non-verbal

Teachers may use a range of strategies or styles in any one session.

Planning

Planning references the Early Years Development Matters, the National Curriculum, the Literacy and Numeracy frameworks and the schools medium term topic plans. Planning must be completed using the school planning format. Published plans for reference can be used as a resource by these need to be adapted to meet the requirements and need of the children at Roman road. Teachers receive guaranteed Planning, Preparation and Assessment time every week.

Teachers and their Teaching Assistants must meet weekly for 40 minutes in year groups to look through planning. The weekly 40 minute slot must be mutually agreed and adhered to. If planning times are changed the lead for TAs (Bev Mattis) must be notified in advance. A copy of the plans should be given to relevant support staff at this time. Completed plans should be uploaded to the MLE by Friday 5.00pm (unless agreed with the Head Teacher) a hard copy is to be displayed on the class notice board by Friday 5.00 pm in readiness for the following week.

Children learn in a variety of ways, and for this reason it is necessary to ensure that planning incorporates as many styles as possible. These styles include:

- whole class teaching
- group work, organised according to appropriate criteria (i.e. ability, mixed ability, interest etc)
- one to one teaching
- conferencing
- research

Differentiation

Teachers will differentiate the curriculum by:

- task
- desired outcome
- giving teacher / other adult support

Differentiated tasks will be detailed in weekly planning. Learning objectives will be specified for all differentiated teaching. Reference will be made in weekly plans to Individual Education Plans (IEPs) and to support for children with English as an additional language.

Cross Phase Continuity

Continuity is ensured by:

- liaison between Preschool, Nursery, Reception and Key Stage 1, and Key Stage 1 to Key Stage 2

- regular liaison meetings between teachers of Year 6 pupils and those from prospective secondary schools
 - visits to secondary schools by Year 6 pupils transfer of pupil records of progress and summative assessment results
 - EYFS profile data is passed on to the year 1 teacher at the end of the summer term in order to help plan for the children

Resources:

Each classroom will be equipped with a basic set of resources and books appropriate to the age range.

Additional resources for curriculum subjects are held centrally in stockrooms off the library. They are audited by the relevant Curriculum Co-ordinator. Curriculum postholders are responsible for the ordering of resources, within a budget, and staff may contact them with suggestions for specialist materials which may need ordering.

Consumable classroom resources are kept by the admin staff, apart from photocopying paper, which is stored centrally in a stockroom off the library. Teachers make a note of any resources required and hand their order book to the Finance Officer by the deadlines given.

Pupils will be taught how to use all resources correctly and safely, with care and respect, and with regard for Health and Safety and waste.

Care will be taken to ensure that resources reflect the cultural and linguistic diversity of our society, and that all pupils have equality of access.

Classroom Support

Classroom helpers are available in the form of both volunteers and paid classroom assistants. As appropriate, and at the discretion of the class teacher and head teacher:

- volunteer helpers assist in the classroom, on outings or visits and in providing other help
- All support staff / additional adults should be wholly deployed to work with children at all times during core subjects teaching, as set out on timetables. They should be engaged in helping learners make progress at all times.
- All staff and volunteers are CRB checked. If their CRB in is pending then they are accompanied by an adult whilst on the premises.
- Teachers who have student teachers placements should prioritise maximising learning opportunities for their class by working with individuals or groups that require additional input and support.
- secondary school pupils and FE students on work placements are accepted into the school and certain standards of dress and conduct are expected

Learning

The emphasis of our Teaching and Learning Policy is on first hand experience and we encourage children increasingly to take control of their own learning.

Learning Processes:

Children enter school at different stages of development. Children learn in different ways and at different rates of progress. In the course of learning children develop their skills through a variety of processes. These include:

- investigation
- experimentation
- listening
- observation
- talking and discussion
- asking questions
- practical exploration and role play
- retrieving information
- imagining
- repetition
- problem-solving
- making choices and decision-making

At Roman Road Primary School opportunities are organised to allow pupils access to these processes, and for them to develop their own strategies to gain knowledge and skills.

Learning Styles:

Classrooms will be organised to facilitate learning and the development of independence, through a range of different styles of learning:

- individual learning
 - collaborative learning in small groups, or pairs
 - one to one learning with an adult, or more able pupil
- whole class
 - independent learning

All areas of the learning environment will be planned for, including, where appropriate, the outside areas, in order to ensure opportunities for a range of practical activities, which will develop appropriate skills, concepts and knowledge.

Learning support assistants, learning support teachers and external agencies will be employed to support children with Special Education Needs, as outlined on the Individual Education Plans.

Behaviour Management

This is outlined in the whole school Policy for Behaviour and Discipline (a positive approach). A major aim of the policy is to encourage children to practice good behaviour by operating a system of praise and reward.

Homework

Homework is considered to be a valuable element of the learning process and therefore children are encouraged to work at home on a regular basis. It is expected that all children will daily read or share a book at home with their parents, and practice multiplication tables and spellings which children are tested on a weekly basis.

Additional homework activities may be given to children to help them practice basic skills and in Year 6 to help prepare them for life at secondary school.

KS2 have literacy and numeracy homework weekly. Occasionally projects (end of term) and Reception and KS1
Refer children to appropriate websites

Marking and Feedback to pupils

Pupils learn about the progress they are making through marking and feedback from Teachers and Teaching Assistants. Effective marking aims to make children learn, not to find fault, so comments will be positive and constructive and follow the schools agreed Marking Policy. At the core of marking are opportunities for pupils to understand the gaps in their learning and the next steps that will help them achieve and progress. Feedback enables pupils to understand to what extent they have achieved the lessons learning objective. Pupils in year three and above assess their own learning to determine if they understood; need more support or did not understand the tasks and objective of the lesson.

Teacher will mark work regularly. All work will be marked against the learning objective following the marking policy below.

Roman Road Marking

1) Every piece of work is to be marked to the learning objective. This can be done by ticking the learning objective in the following ways;

- A green tick if the learning objective has been achieved.
- A yellow tick if the learning objective has been partly achieved.
- A red tick to show that more work is still required and the learning objective needs to be re-visited.

2) At least one piece of work per English and Mathematics work per week should be marked in more detail (quality marked in depth). One in three pieces of work to be quality marked (in depth) for RE and History/Geography and one in two for Science.

Written comments should be;

- Clear, meaningful and constructive
- Initialled and dated
- Clear and easy for the pupil to understand
- Informative ,identifying problems and successes
- A basis for future steps in learning and teaching

‘Next time’

‘Work on’

‘Try harder with...’

Two stars and a wish

3) Where necessary read the comments to the child and discuss his/her targets. Once this has been done ask the child to initial the comments.

4) Plan two to three minutes into literacy numeracy lessons once a week in order to give children time to read next step comments and initial.

Feedback and marking are also done while a task is being carried out, through discussion between child and teacher.

Year 1 to give back in depth marking at the beginning of each lesson

Monitoring and Evaluation

Cycles of monitoring are in place for profiles, books, plans and lesson observations. Lessons are observed by school Leadership and subject co-ordinators

- Co-ordinator files are monitored to ensure they contain the essential elements set out on the contents page provided by HT.
- Planning is monitored for differentiation, progression, topics covered, assessment and evaluation.
- Lessons are observed for quality control and CPD. They also provide data for quantifiable purposes.
- Books are monitored for presentation, marking, quantity and quality of work and to establish progression.
- Profiles are monitored for presentation, quantity and quality of child observations, photographs, teachers notes, parent comments, child initiated samples of writing, tracking of progress and next steps

Unless an immediate concern has arisen, prior notice of at least a week is given, regarding all observations and monitoring of books, plans and co-ordinator files. In order to quality control and ensure teachers meet expectations in Teaching and Learning at Roman Road school the HT expects deadlines to be met in all cases. Where there is concern i.e. deadlines are regularly not being met by a given party, investigation may ensue.

Learning Environment

It is important that the children have a stimulating learning environment which both provides information and celebrates children's work. Displays should be varied interactive and informative. Many different types of display should be used including, 3D work, handwritten work and work that had made full use of ICT opportunities. All work should be double backed.

Classroom and public area displays should be replaced regularly. Teacher will be notified of deadlines termly.

The role of the teacher is to complete the work with the children and to allocate the teaching assistant some time to back and display work for display. If further help is required help can be sought from the display TA.

Formative Assessment and Assessment for Learning

Formative Assessment and Assessment for Learning are used to guide the progress of individual pupils. It involves identifying each child's progress in each area of the curriculum, determining what each child has learnt and what, therefore, should be the next stage in the child's learning. Formative Assessment is mostly carried out informally by teachers in the course of their teaching and will form the basis of group or individual target setting.

Suitable contexts for such assessments include:

- small group discussions, perhaps in the context of a practical activity
- short tests given orally with a written pupil response
- specific assignments for individual pupils
- individual discussions in which pupils are encouraged to appraise their own work and progress.

- Understood through the marking and feedback process as outlined in Policy.
 - Foundation Stage carry out ongoing observations, tracking and next steps.

Reception

At the end of their reception year, we summarise children's progress towards the early learning goals as outlined in the EYFS profile. Results of our assessment are sent to the LA for analysis.

In the Preschool and Nursery

The children are assessed using the 'Development Matters' stages and aspects and their progress tracked using 'Progress Matters' tool. Children are assessed on entry to nursery and preschool have a 2 year old progress check, midpoint and on exit from nursery and preschool.

Summative Assessment

- Optional QCA tests in literacy and numeracy are carried out in years two to six, in terms two, four and six. Science tests are also carried out in these terms.
- SATs tests are carried out in term six for years two (teacher assessment) and six. Year six have both teacher assessment and past SATs papers termly.
- Teacher's assessment is carried out in years one, three and five.
- Year one carry out teacher assessment only, each half term. Science tests - APP
- At the end of their Reception year, children are assessed against the areas of learning (ELGs) outlined in the Foundation Stage Profile, with the results being published to the LEA annually.
- Preschool and Nursery follow the 'Development Matters' system of assessment. Children are assessed on entry to the preschool and nursery and then again mid way through their time in the preschool and nursery.

The overall statistical profile – but not individual results – is made available to parents, governors, the LA and national government.

Recording and Reporting

Records of progress are kept for each child and updated annually by class teachers. They may contain samples of pupil's work.

Progress and attainment of all pupils in each class are discussed and analysed three times a year through Pupil Progress Meetings. This informs target setting, grouping, intervention needs and planning. The class teacher, Assessment co-ordinator, SENCO, HT and DHT are all involved in this process. + EAL

On average pupil's are expected to make two sublevels of progress each academic year. Pupil progress meetings are designed to track this progress so that children that are not making the necessary progress are identified early.

If a child is not making the appropriate progress then strategies are agreed to help facilitate progression. These strategies and progress are then reviewed at the next pupil progress meeting and targets set.

Reporting to parents takes place termly through Parents' Evenings. Following the annual report, parents have the option of meeting their child's teacher if they wish to discuss the report.

Parents may, of course, meet with their child's teacher by appointment at any other time to discuss particular concerns any through the academic year.
